Write a paragraph about a great gift that you have received. This is an exercise in descriptive writing, so you should try your hardest to really paint as clear a picture as possible for your reader about the gift. What exactly did it look like? Or what exactly did it do? You need to put in lots of details!

What did it look like?

How did you feel when you received it?

What did it do?

How did you feel when you first used it?
