National Curriculum English Appendix 2: Vocabulary, grammar and punctuation Year 1
Word
Regular plural noun suffixes –s or –es [for example, dog, dogs; wish, wishes],	Throughout fiction and non-fiction.	Children will use plural nouns and third person singular verbs ending with s and es including the effects of these suffixes on the meaning of the noun		where appropriate in their writing as modelled by the teacher.

Suffixes that can be added to verbs where no change is needed in the spelling of root words (e.g. helping, helped, helper)	Throughout fiction and non-fiction.	Not explicitly taught, but children will use these forms where appropriate in their own writing after seeing them modelled by the teacher.
How the prefix un– changes the meaning of verbs and adjectives [negation, for example, unkind , or undoing: untie the boat]	Not explicitly taught.	Not explicitly taught, but children will use these forms where appropriate in their own writing as modelled by the teacher.
Sentence
How words can combine to make sentences	Through reading the fiction and non-fiction books in the programme, children’s understanding of how words combine to make sentences develops steadily.	From early preparation of linking words into phrases in the Red Ditty Get Writing books, children develop their knowledge and ability to combine words to make sentences.
Joining words and joining clauses using and	From Green storybooks onwards, children are familiarized with how the word ‘and’ can be used to join words and clauses.	From Green Get Writing books onwards, children are encouraged to use ‘and’ to combine words and clauses (though not too frequently!).
Text
Sequencing sentences to form short narratives	From Green storybooks onwards, children read short narratives made up of sequenced sentences.	From Purple Get Writing books onwards, children practice forming short narratives by writing sequenced sentences.
Punctuation
Separation of words with spaces	Children witness this in all the fiction and non-fiction books in the programme.	Children are taught to leave a finger space between words, and are regularly reminded of this throughout the programme.
Introduction to capital letters, full stops, question marks and exclamation marks to demarcate sentences	After completing the Red Ditty books, children are made aware of these punctuation marks in all the fiction and non-fiction books in the programme. Relevant features are flagged up in the prelims for each book.	After completing the Red Ditty Books, children are taught to recognize and understand the function of these punctuation marks, first through mime. Then they are encouraged to use them in their own written work.

Capital letters for names and for the personal pronoun 'I.'	In all the fiction and non-fiction books beyond Red Ditty books, capital letters are used for names. The pronoun 'I' is used in the Red Ditty books.	Capital letters for names introduced in Set 1 Green My dog Ned . The capital letter 'I' for the pronoun is used in the reading and writing linked to the Red Ditty books, although it is not explicitly taught as a pronoun.
Terminology for pupils
letter, capital letter, word, singular, plural, sentence, punctuation, full stop, question mark, exclamation mark	These terms will be used regularly throughout the programme as part of the storybook activities. Children should be used to hearing and understanding them, as well as be confident in using the terms themselves.	Not explicitly taught, but children will use these forms where appropriate in their own writing as modelled by the teacher.
